Roddy Wins Fourth All-Around Title

Jack Roddy captured his fourth all-around cowboy title in a row last weekend while the Cal Poly team topped all competition in winning its fourth straight team title in Pomeroy, Washington.

Two teams, hoping to keep the record intact, travel to rodeos this weekend. Members of the team headed for Pendleton, Oregon, are Roddy, Ben Jones; Tom Norton, Ashwood, Oregon; Charlie Leavell, Lincoln; R. C. Nunes, Roswell, New Mexico; Don Rystron, Downer and Woody Bell, Ballina.

The other team travels to Pierce Junior College in Canoga Park and will include Fred Gilbert, Bruce Dodson, Marvin Smith, Bill Nielson, Hill Stroud, Riley Freeman, Merna Muller, and Carla Kaufman.

Regional finals will be at Fresno State May 28 and 29 with finalists going to the national finals at Klamath Falls, Oregon, in July.

Poly Bred Horses Win at Tanforan

Three horses bred or sold by Cal Poly won races at the Tanforan race meeting recently concluded.

Highlight of the group was Orbita Top, a two year old gelding by Orbit II and Topsy Ann. He was sold at the Northern California Breeders sale in October for $2,500. He started once at Santa Anita was second his first start at Tanforan, won his next start and came back Saturday to run third in the 15,000 San Bruno Stakes and collect $2,500 of the show purse. He has won more than $4,000 for his owner.

Mabel Bell by Call Bell out of Mabel Hygro and sold for $600 at the Annual Del Mar Sales ran second once, third once, and won at Tanforan. She ran forth in the Tanforan Lassie Stakes, a $10,000 race for two year old fillies. She also ran second three times and third once at Santa Anita and has won more than $6,000 since January 1.

Low Call, a three year old colt and brother to Mabel Bell, won two races last week at Tanforan after running second once at uvery of 1947 at the Breeders the meeting. He was sold in January at Pomona for $2,500 to Aguera Stock Farm.

Lamarsee, a Poly bred horse also ran at the meeting running second once and was in the money one other time.

Editor Warns Students of Small Yearbook Supply

"Here's the best possible way to recall the Twenty Seventh Annual Poly Royal, the event-filled 1950 sports calendar, the larger-than-ever number of campus organizations, the dorms and living groups, the beloved faculty members of every department, three full quarters of student activities, the multi-million dollar building program, President McPhee's 25th anniversary, and the more than 700 graduating seniors," reminded yearbook editor Ken Carpenter.

"Only 300 books are yet unsold. Don't forget that once the supply of 1,100 books has been sold, there will be no more books available, so 2,900 students will be forced to remember this outstanding school year with their back issues of El Mustang, their own snapshot collections, and their memories," warned Carpenter.

SAC Works on $145,361 Budget

Students Affairs Council began study this week of the proposed 1950-51 Associated Student Body budget totalling $145,361. S.A.C. will discuss the budget again Tuesday night working toward eventual approval as submitted by the finance committee or as revised where necessary by the council.

The finance committee, under direction of chairman Dave Ryckehosch, has been working on the budget since early January. The committee has reviewed each organization's budget and has evaluated the entire monetary listing of student body income and expense.

Graduate Manager Bob Bostrom pointed out that the budget is unique in that buying a student body card, which totals $15 a year, the student is investing in a non-profit corporation that spends $145,361, while the income from student body cards is about $60,000.

Bostrom pointed to S.A.C. five subordinate boards—Music, Poly

Royal, publications, athletics and College Union—and said that only the entire athletics income is derived from outside sources. Most of the other income is from student spending.

"Most of the return on the athletic budget, of course, comes from paying customers at athletic contest and guarantees from the host teams when we play away from home," he commented.

Included in the overall budget, and itemized in each subordinate budget, is $25,810 paid in salaries. A total of $7,610 is paid for student labor, while the student body president is allotted a $500 expense account.

Four full time employees of the student body—graduate manager, two student body office secretaries and a bookkeeper—draw salaries totalling $17,500.

Broken down, the salaries to students, paid for managerial positions, ticket selling, clean-up, etc., are as follows: boxing, $50; football, $750; wrestling, $90; Collegians, $1,560; other College

Union committees, $870; publications, $1,800; athletic publicity director $600; general A.S.B., $1800; and Poly Royal, $890.

The A.S.B. general fund income totalling $68,845 is gained primarily from student body card sales, which brings in about $60,000. Added income comes through public address system advertising, concessions, discount movie cards, traffic donations interest on investments, rental of scoreboard, rental of public address system and miscellaneous.

Bostrom also pointed out that a new rule set this year by S.A.C. will require any judging teams of the future to have a code and submit a budget. "This is primarily to alleviate lengthy discussions over allocating money to judging teams and also to avoid the misunderstandings always caused by these teams' requests," Bostrom said.

Graduation Speaker Is Navy Man

Rear Admiral Leslie E. Gehres, USN (Ret.), will deliver the commencement address at annual graduation exercises June 12, according to announcement by President Julian A. McPhee. Admiral Gehres, since 1954, has been manager of personnel and security for the Ryan Aeronautical Company of San Diego.

In 32 years of service in the United States Navy, he rose from enlisted man to the rank of rear admiral. In 1918, not yet 20 years old, he competed for a reserve commission and was commissioned an ensign.

During the first World War Gehres saw action in the North Atlantic, then came to the Pacific coast in 1920. In 1931 he won a commission as Lieutenant (Junior grade) in the regular Navy, and entered naval aviation in 1926.

From 1929 to 1937 Gehres was one of the Navy's top fighter and stunt pilots, leader of the Navy's famed "high hat" squadron of precision flyers which performed at air races and in exhibitions all over the United States. They contributed substantially to the development of fighter and dive bombing techniques.

At the start of World War II, Gehres commanded Fleet Air Wing Four, which was at Dutch Harbor, Alaska, when the Japanese attacked there in June of 1942. While in command of all naval aviation in the North Pacific in 1943, he was appointed the Navy's first aviation commodore. In 1944, at his own request, he reverted to the rank of Captain in order to take command of the carrier U.S.S. Franklin.

His record as skipper of the Franklin was commemorated in the motion picture, "Task Force." In March, 1945, near the coast of Japan, the "Big Ben" was nearly destroyed by Japanese dive bombers. When it appeared that the Franklin was fatally damaged, his admiral advised him to abandon ship but Gehres refused to desert the more than 200 members of his crew helplessly trapped below decks. He and the remnants of his crew succeeded in saving the ship and the lives of the trapped men.

Gehres holds 18 Navy decorations, including the Navy Cross and the Purple Heart. He commanded the U.S. Naval Air Station on North Island in San Diego Harbor from July 1945 to September, 1946.

In April, 1949, he retired as a Rear Admiral. He then turned his energies into civilian channels as director of public relations for the San Diego Employers Association. In March, 1950, he was persuaded by San Diego civic leaders to stand for the Republican nomination for Congress. In the primary election he won his party nomination by a large majority, but lost the November election to the Democrat incumbent by the slim margin of one per cent of the votes.

Architectural Engineering award presentations to outstanding students in the department was the highlight of the annual departmental banquet held recently at which more than 500 people attended including architects from all parts of the state. Charles Luckman was the guest speaker.

Gerry Busse, freshman, Alhambra; Don Muller, sophomore, Arcadia; Mel Rhodes, junior, San Luis Obispo; Mike Kohl, senior, Napa, won the Student Chapter of the American Institute of Architects. The awards go annually to the members of each class who have been outstanding in all phases of departmental activity. They are an expression of gratitude from all students to those who have worked hard in departmental affairs. The award was a letter of commendation, along with a subscription to an architectural magazine.

The John Badgley award was won by Connie Nash, Palm Springs. The award is $50 in building stocks for the freshman who has excelled in scholarship with emphasis on major work. Connie is the first girl to win the award.

Don Mueller also won the John Ross award made each year to the sophomore who has shown outstanding professional interest. For this award, Ross will take Mueller to the A.I.A. Convention in Monterey as his guest.

George Ritter, Palm Springs, won the Dr. Albert Gasin award of $75 for having the most outstanding scholastic record with emphasis on major work in his sophomore year.

C.L. Holt, S.L.O., Kinya Matsuno, San Francisco, and J.L. Slipman, Montrose, won first, second and third respectively for the Seabab Fraternity for sophomore students. The problem was the design and presentation, in model form, of a plywood tower.

Westminster Head Speaks At Baccalaureate Service

Rev. John E. Burkhardt, director of the Westminster Foundation of Southern California, will speak at the baccalaureate service Friday, June 12, in the San Luis Obispo High School Auditorium at 8 p.m.

Rev. Burkhardt received the bachelor of arts degree from Occidental College, bachelor of Divinity degree from Union Theological Seminary in New York and Doctor of Philosophy degree from the University of Southern California.

He was a chaplain in the Air Force and since 1955 has been the Presbyterian University Pastor at U.S.C.

Rev. Fank Havens, First Presbyterian, San Luis Obispo, and Rev. Otto Kliever, First Baptist, San Luis Obispo, will assist in the service.

Chairman Asks Ideas On Homecoming Theme

Deadlines for 1950 Homecoming theme suggestions is Tuesday, and a perpetual plaque will be awarded to the club submitting the chosen theme. Suggestions must be left in the A.S.B. office.

Jerry Cleaver, Homecoming committee chairman said, "We encourage all clubs to participate and submit as many suggestions as possible. Since the clubs and other groups make the Homecoming floats, this gives them an opportunity to make appropriate suggestions."

Members of the Homecoming committee include: Jerry Cleaver, general chairman; Jim Evans, parade; Mary Crowe publicity; Dick Flaherty, vice chairman; Alice Whetmoyer, secretary; Jerry Kechter, judging; Nick Tingling, bonfire; Jerry Shaw, parade; Ken Schopp, awards; Jim Reynolds, route; Dave George, social; and Bert Mehling, queen contest.

Homecoming is set for Oct. 24, and will include a football game with Fresno State, a parade, bonfire rally, queen's contest, ugly man contest, dance, and alumni activities.

Poly Picnic Slated At Nacimiento Lake

The second annual Poly Picnic is scheduled for Sunday at Nacimiento Lake.

The outings committee, with Tom Boyden directing, has planned a full afternoon of outdoor activities, with the cooperation of various campus outing clubs.

A car rally will leave from the front of Japerson Dorm at noon, and at the lake there will be free power boat rides, archery, a motorcycle scramble, volleyball, relays and games, swimming, and a nature hike.

Cinemoguls Count Money; Say Extra Movie Is Possible

After a three-day session of counting the money taken in during the year, film committee cinemoguls Phil Ritterband and Martin Figoten announced today they have 2,971 extra pennies.

"Piling these pennies one on top of another would result in a pile 14 feet, 11 inches high," commented Ritterband. Figoten added that the calculation was theoretically determined with a micrometer and slide rule. Repeated practical experiments resulted in chaotic failure.

"Having this extra money left over means we can either pocket it or order one color and one black-and-white movie," Ritterband announced at the meeting. The vote was 1-1, and the tie was broken in favor of ordering the two movies, by the flip of a coin (a 1954a penny).

The two additional movies, following next week's production of "Don't Go Near the Water," will be "The Little Hut," starring Ava Gardner, David Niven, and Stewart Granger; and the science-fiction film, "The Day the Earth Stood Still."

"This is the third year in a row we have ended with a science-fiction film," said a spokesman for the committee. "It puts the students in a realistic mood for finals," he added, while reaching for a penny that had rolled under the bed.

Vic Runs Tonight In Coliseum Relays

Versatile Vic Hall, who has dashed off two 9.6 second 100 yard dashes this season, has been invited to participate in the Coliseum Relays being held tonight in Los Angeles.

Hall ran 9.6 seconds for a near fourth in the century last week in the West Coast Relays. He also covered the distance in the same time in the Santa Barbara Easter Relays. Hall competed in the Coliseum event last year for the Los Angeles Striders.

The 185 pound Hall grabbed two firsts in the sprints during the recent CCAA track and field championships to pace the Mustangs to a tie for third place with Santa Barbara.

The conference championships were won by Los Angeles State with Fresno State second. Other Poly placers in the CCAA finals were Grant Calkins, a tie for first in the pole vault of 13 feet; Louis Rodriguez, a fourth in the 880; Charles Smith, second in the high jump; Steve Salter, a third in the high jump and Hall a fourth in the high jump; Frank Carroll, a second in the discus. Dennis Hester proved the hardluck runner of the meet. Hester ran a good race in the 440 and appeared to be a winner when he fell three yards from the finish.

Coach Jim Jensen's mile relay team romped to a first in the West Coast relay event nipping Fresno State at the wire. The team composed of Bruce Nance, Rodriguez, Hester and Hall covered the distance in 3:18.9.

Mermen Repeat State Title Win

Called "the greatest team in Cal Poly history" by Coach Dick Anderson, Mustang swimmers climaxed an undefeated season with their second straight State College Meet championship.

The Green and Golders amassed 116 points while breaking 12 pool, meet, and school records. Runner-up San Jose State had 91 points, and host Long Beach State was third with 60 tallies.

Poly's All American Gene Lens broke nine of the 12 records, setting pool, meet, and school marks in the 1500 meters, the 220-yard freestyle, and the 440-yard freestyle during the three-day event held April 30, May 1, and 2.

Lens started his record setting spree the opening night in the with a mark of 18:34.9 in the 1500 meters. This cut a full minute off the old meet mark of 19:48.0 and was 1.6 seconds better than his best time.

Lens came back to swim the 220 in 2:08.4 and finished up a perfect meet and a Cal Poly swimming career with a time of 4:18.8 in the 440 the next day.

Bob Loeffler set new pool and meet records in the 220-yard butterfly with a 2:25.5 time, while Val Gressler topped the school record for the 100-yard backstroke, streaking to victory in 1:02.0.

During the year, the Mustangs scored easy wins over eight dual meet opponents and chalked up a victory in the Davis Relays in addition to their State Meet win.

Five other all-time Cal Poly records, and one Freshman NCAA mark, fell during the season.

The medley relay team of Larry Cole, John Phillips, Loeffler, and Bob Wright clicked off a time of 4:11.9, while Phillips set an individual record in the 200-yard breaststroke in 2:41.3. Jack Adam, Wright, Jim Olson, and Lens put a new freestyle relay mark on the boards at 8:59.2.

Frank Brooks led the frosh to an undefeated 5-0 season and set an NCAA freshman record in the 200-yard butterfly, 2:19.9, and broke the school record in both the 100-yard and 200-yard butterfly.

When asked about next year, Anderson may have sounded an ominous note for future opposition when he simply said: "We're gonna try and be better."

Mustang Gymnasts Take CCAA Third In Final Tourney

Scoring more points than ever before in a CCAA tourney, Poly's seven man gymnastics team won six medals and placed third with 18 1/2 points behind Los Angeles State, with 74, and Long Beach State, 50 1/2. The tourney was held at Long Beach State last week.

Kit Burton was the only double medal winner, with a first in the parallel bars and a third on the side horse. Leigh Allen walked away from the trampoline with a first.

Rope climbing Herman Farlough was a second place winner, while Art Strickland, Allan Pence, and John Alday took thirds in the trampoline, rope climb, and tumbling events respectively.

Alday also placed fourth and fifth in the high bars and trampoline and John Sewell took fourth and fifth on the swinging rings and parallels.

Speed was blamed for more than 40 per cent of the traffic deaths and injuries in the U. S. during 1958.

Football Again King Sport; First Scrimmage Tomorrow

Coach Roy "Silver Fox" Hughes announced his spring footballers would stage their first scrimmage of the 20-day drills tomorrow morning at 10:30 on the Poly Stadium sod.

The local gridders have launched their second week of workouts. Following Saturday morning's scrim, the 60-man squad will be divided into two outfits—the greens and golds—and will drill separately until May 27 intersquad game.

Hughes was pleased with the 1959 Mustangs' first week of spring drills. He bemoans the lack of material available in the forward wall—especially at the guard and tackle spots. Of the linemen currently working out, Hughes indicated four newcomers who showed well during the first seven practice sessions.

These are Terry Farris, Mike Ariotto, Lynn Lobaugh, and Mylrester "Boxcar" Cooper. All but Cooper are 1958 Colt footballers. Cooper is an amazingly agile 290-pound tackle via Bakersfield College. Farris is working out at the center spot, weighs 210, as does guard prospect Lobaugh.

Hughes is high on praise for Lobaugh, who has the "fighting spirit" demonstrated by many extraordinary guards under the Fox. Ariotto is a 280-pound tackle, who has shown aggressiveness in workouts.

An additional four newcomers, vying for backfield posts, have won comment from the mentor. Carl "Bumper" Bowser, 210 pound fullback, makes the Fox's eyes light up when he demonstrates his speed and desire. The Bakersfield product is considered first string material.

Poly's band played a concert for the residents of the Men's Colony Monday night and employed one of the inmates at the microphone to announce the program. About the halfway point, Graduate Manager Rob Bostrom passed along the information that band director Clarence Caughran had a master's degree in music from Columbia University signed by President Eisenhower when he was the University President.

The inmate announced this to the audience which roared its approval with a thunderous ovation. When the applause quieted, he stepped up to the microphone and remarked, "That makes my diploma from reform school look a little cheap."

Assemblies Committee Chairman Paul Sullivan says no Kingston Trio for Poly this year . . . fact is, the possibility of getting any big name entertainment here for the rest of the year is mighty slim.

Our baseball team need not feel bad about the Poly Royal loss to Fresno 22-1. U.M.C. dumped Occidental 25-2, gathering 25 runs in the first three innings.

A hat, boots and levis bedecked aggie was chatting with an engineering buddy the other day and mentioned that he had found a job.

"I'm a pilot," said the aggie. "Planes?" "No, stables." "How so?" "Oh, I pilot here, and pilot there."

IT TOOK SOME DOING, but the Collegians got their raise. It took a lot of talk by the finance committee, but the horn tooters will be getting $8 for a three-hour dance and $12 for four. It totals $1,600 for next year which is still only $108 per man.

Engineer Is Second In Paper Contest

Bruce Walton, Electrical Engineering senior representing Cal Poly, placed second in the Eighth District Student Prize Paper Contest held on campus recently.

The title of Walton's paper submitted in the American Institute of Electrical Engineers' contest was "The Design and Construction of a Transistor Selective Amplifier for Synchronizing a Tape Recorder and a 85 mm Slide projector."

Stanford University's representative placed first.

Aero Majors Wins $50 in Contest

James E. Terry, senior Aeronautics major from Adrian, Missouri, was awarded a third prize of $50 in the undergraduate paper competition, at the ninth annual Western Regional Student Conference of The Institute of the Aeronautical Sciences, held in Los Angeles.

Terry, a member of Cal Poly's student branch of I.A.S., competed against nine other students from five western engineering schools. His paper was based on work done in his senior project, "A Study of the Effect of End Plates on Propeller Performance."

Terry entered Poly in September 1957, after graduating in Aircraft Maintenance Engineering from Northrop Aeronautical Institute. He also attended Southwest Missouri State, University of Hawaii, and Taft and Pierce Junior Colleges.

Frosh Wins Math Achievement Award

Richard G. Warner, Electronics major from Woodland, received this year's freshman mathematics achievement award, donated by the Chemical Rubber Publishing Company.

Selection of the winner was made by a committee from the Math department faculty. Oswald Falkenstein, committee chairman, said the award was made on the basis of outstanding achievement in the field of math.

To qualify, the student must have received an A grade in Math 118 and Calculus.

"The selection this year was relatively easy," Falkenstein commented, "since Warner was considerably ahead of any other competition."

Warner entered the Poly Royal math contest in 1958, but was not a winner then.

Every Fourth Student Faces Interview

In an effort to determine the adequacy of co-curricular activities on campus, an IBM selected 1,000 student interview will be conducted starting today.

Student interviewers trained by former professional interviewers will each interview about ten students from their own department. By IBM selection, every fourth student presently enrolled will undergo the complete interview covering adequacy and awareness of co-curricular activities and facilities on week nights, weekend nights and any other out-of-class time.

Each interview is expected to take from 15 to 30 minutes. Students to be interviewed will be contacted personally by the interviewers.

In 1958, more than 40 per cent of the traffic injuries resulted from weekend accidents.

"How can I be sure you've got some Camels?"

More buxom blondes with shipwrecked sailors insist on Camels than any other cigarette today. It stands to reason: the best tobacco makes the best smoke. The Camel blend of costly tobaccos has never been equalled for rich flavor and easygoing mildness. No wonder Camel is the No. 1 cigarette of all!

Yes, it's been demonstrated time and time again, that for real refreshment it's Coke every time! Add up that cold crisp taste, that lively lift and you really have a drink worth going after. So whenever the crowd has a multiple thirst, make the high sign of good taste . . . pass around the Coca-Cola! Quod Erat Demonstrandum!
